Fuzz Kitto at 'We are Church'

Fuzz Kitto (pictured on page 1) is an Australian, Christian activist who travels the world collecting stories, creating stories and spreading rumours of hope. He is a youth worker, minister, trainer, speaker, writer and coach. Fuzz heads a global organisation focused on eradicating modern day slavery (<https://www.beslaveryfree.com/>) and we were privileged to host him for a dinner and crucial conversation on 21 February.

This is what Laurel had to say about the evening: 'Spreading rumours of hope' This is exactly what Fuzz did. I went with an expectation to hear all the gory injustice stories, (there was a bit of that). The humour and positivity was so inspirational. I left thinking of all the changes I could make in my small little space to make an impact in the world.

Cricket

On 5 February a number of us gathered at Wanderers to enjoy the local 20/20 cricket scene. It was a fun day, although sadly we did not all manage to sit together. The next 5 Sunday month is April, so I thought we could get together on Monday 1 May, which is a public holiday, and enjoy a picnic in the park with some touch rugby and chatter.
